ports, and testimony in the hands of the Public Utilities Commission. A great deal nas been presented from time to time in official reports to the House and Senate Committees on the District of Columbia. Never before, as far as The Times can discover, have these tacts been gathered together into a general summary and laid before the public of Washington.

Affect Few Persons.

Whatever may have been the purpose of the Potomac Electric Power Company in putting forth the proposed new rates for cooking and heating, the fact remains, that, whereas just seventywe persons in the city could hope for any immediate benefit from them, the tent at the present time are paying excessive rate. The succeeding articles in this series will attempt to convince the rublic of the first of these articles facts will be presented to show that the approved new rate for cooking and neating can only benefit those householders of the only benefit those householders of the city who already own electric ranges, or who are able to install them; and that the "benefit" which even these layored persons will get will be on the score of convenience rather than economy. The company itself knew when the rates were proposed of only seventy-five persons who own electric ranges, the cost of which is greatly in excess of gas ranges.

In the next article the question of electric lighting rates will be gone into. The present lighting rate for house-ho.ders and spartment dwellers of 10 cents per ki owatt hour 'for current consumed during the first 120 kilowatt hours' use, monthly, of the connected load' and 5 cents per kilowatt hour for the excess thereof, will be trans-lated into terms of popular language, and in such way as to show that as a practical proposition the secondary rate or 5 cents never applies to the dweller in the house or apartment. Facts will be presented to show that the primary rate of 10 cents is excessive when compared (1) with the rates in other cities;

pared (1) with the rates in other cities:
(2) with the cost of production; and (3) with the profits made.
In the next two succeeding articles facts will be presented by way of explaining these excessive rates. It will be shown that by virtue of a remarkable arrangement between the Potomac Electric Power Company and the Washington Railway and Electric Company, the railway company, which owns and controls outright the power company, gets more than half the output of the Potomac Electric Power Company's plant at less than cost, while the other customers of the lighting company are paying enough to cover this loss and pay handsome dividends on the power company's stock. It will also be shown by detailed figures from the sworn reports of both companies that the Washington Railway and Electric Company gets the entire dividends from the stock way company to pay certain charges on the plant of the power company. but a fair profit for the current it obtained for its street-car service.

Defense of Company.

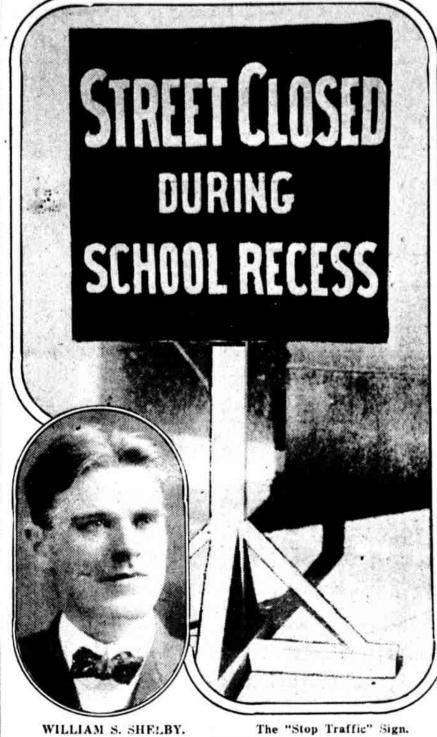

All that the companies have set up by way of defense in the past, according to officials of the Public Utilities Commission, is that the present arrangement is a "mutually satisfactory" modification of the original contract-s modification, it must be borne in mind, agreed to on behalf of the Potomac Flectric Power Company by directors, who, at the same time, also represented Throughout this series of articles every effort has been made to avoid injustice to the two companies; and the conclusions sought to be driven home are only those which have stood the test of careful checking up. In fact, with respect to every statement made concerning the ownership of the Po-tomac Electric Power Company by the tomac Electric Power Company by the Washington Railway and Electric Company, the profits enjoyed by the latter, and the rates and disposition of the dividends, is taken from the sworn reports of the companies on file at the Public Service Commission. The facts concerning the relationship between the two companies with respect to the current used by the railway company, are taken from the sworn to and uncontradicted testimony of the companies investigators. The information concerning the Great Falls water power site deal has been taken from an official report to Congress by former an official report to Congress by former District Commissioner Chester Harding. The statements regarding the new cooking and heating rates and with re-spect to the Potennic Electric Power Company's method of charging for elec-tric light, came for the most part from reason or other the youngsters didn't run from Shelby.

Shelby has been on the force thirteen years. He knows the policeman's attitude toward the kiddle on his heat thoroughly. He has read law, and he is used to speaking in public—that is, before grown-ups. He confesses, however, that he is approaching the andiences made up of Masters Smallboy with fear and trembling.

"If I cannot make them understand that the policeman wants to help the kiddle, and isn't interfering with him just for the sake of being unpleasant, half of the effect of the talks to the children will be lost. He says. And, therefore, he is spending his time just now in mapping out what he wants to impress upon the juveniles who will make up his hudiences, and reducing it all to words and ideas of small-boy caliber.

"I'm afraid that the attitude of the average child to the policeman now-addays is not very far removed from fear," he says. To the youngster the policeman represents an intangible suthority, coupled with possible punishment.

Chevy Chase Trustees Announce They Will Resist Attempt to Revoke License.

The trustees of the Chevy Chase Sanitarium announced today they will fight the attempt of 'he District Commissloners to revoke the license of the institution. They issued the following statement

"The members of the board of trustees of the Chevy Chase Sanitorium state that after careful consideration of the action of the Commissioners in attempting to revoke its license, at the instance of residents of the neighborhood who objected to its presence, they have determined that it is their duty to the patients of the institution under treatmen, to the officers of the institution, and others interested in . it. including they believe a considerable portion of the medical profession of the District, to resist that action by all proper and legitimate means in their power. The trustees aer convinced that the objections of those who seek the recocution of the license of the institution as well as the action of the Commissioners, are based largely, if notslingether, on a miscon eption of the character of the inscutation, the belief being apparently entertained that it is what is commonly called an insure asvium. When the charges against it were made the officials of the institution promptly requested the Commissioners to direct the Health Officer of the District of Columbia to visit, assect, and report upon the character of the petients being treated, the methods of treatment and the conduct of the institution. This request was not complied with.

The demand for local securities, following the holiday season, as manifested at today's session of the Washington Stock Exchange was comparatively light. Bonds found a better market than did stock, the sales of the latter being confined to odd lots. Washington Gas 5 per cent bonds were the market leaders, a total of $10,000 worth being traded in at 105%. Two Washington Railway and Electric 's brought 81, and one Potomac Elec ric Power Consolidated 5 sold at 99%. There were several soft spots in the market. Lanston Monotype was offered down 1 point at 74, and the best bid was 12; the bid for American Graphophone common dropped 3 points to 137, and that for the preferred, 2 points to 140, while American Security and Trust stock, after five shares had sold at 285, was offered at 267, as compared with an asked price of 275 last Friday. Other sales included eight shares of Washington Railway and Electric pre-ferred stock at 83 and eight shares of Mergenthaler Linetype stock at 1714.

At the annual meeting of stockhold ers of the Firemen's Insurance Com pany of Washington and Georget wn, which was held at the offices of the company at 11 o'clock this morning, only one change was made in the personnel of the directorate, John H. enry James Decorated With the Order of Merit Was concealed under the floor of the lattic, and a loose board moved Mrs. She has been married three times, and has lived in the house thirty years, but she says neither of her former husbands had any money. Henry James Decorated

LONDON, Jan. 3.-The announcement that King George, in conferring Nev-Year honors, had bestowed the decoration of the order of merit on Henry James, the author, who renounced his American citizenship last July and became a British subject, recalls the fact that there are but eleven civilian members of this order. Among these are Viscount Morley of Blackburn; Viscount Bryce, Thomas Hardy, the novelist; Sir George Trevelyan and Viscount Hai-

The order was instituted as a mark of special distinction for naval and military service or for work in apt, literature, and science.

Says a Society Woman Got Thousands From Him

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 3.-How beautiful woman is alleged to have received property worth $10,000 in ex-change for a smile, a cigar, a glass of beer and $1 was to be told in circuit court here today when the civil action of Hugh E. Hogan vs. Mrs. James Rhode opened. Mrs. Rhode, of social consequence in Newcastle, Ind., was a sister of Hogan's wife.

When Mrs. Hogan died Hogan deeded the property to Mrs. Rhode, and now Hogan wants the property back. In preliminary testimony given by Mrs. Rhode she tells of many years she spent as a trapeze performer and contortionist with various circuses.

Are those that do not fluctuate during dis-turbed conditions of the money or atock mar-kets. First deed of trust notes (first mort-ages), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt-edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of militiduals or cor-porations for their stability, and are exemp-from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from 1560 upward. Send for booklet "Concerning Loans and Investments." SWARTZELL, RHEEM &
